Westlake Village, California

CCHM Business Plan Assignment – Part 1

Prepared: March 2026

1. Mission Statement

Golden Well Classical Homeopathy exists to restore and sustain optimal health by offering compassionate, individualized classical homeopathic care to the residents of Westlake Village and the greater Conejo Valley. Our practice honors the whole person—mind, body, and spirit—by working with the body's innate healing intelligence. We are committed to creating a welcoming environment where every client feels heard, respected, and empowered on their path to lasting well-being.

2. Step-by-Step Objectives

- Achieve monthly gross revenue of $4,000 by Month 6 and $8,000 by Month 12.

Year Two

- Grow the active client roster to 50–60 ongoing patients.
- Introduce group educational workshops (Introduction to Homeopathy, Acute Prescribing for Families).

3. Demographic Research

3.1 Overview of Westlake Village, California

Westlake Village is a small, affluent city in Los Angeles County, situated on the western edge of the San Fernando Valley at the border of Ventura County. The surrounding Conejo Valley—including Thousand Oaks, Agoura Hills, and Calabasas—significantly expands the potential patient pool for a Westlake Village-based practice.

Demographic Indicator	Westlake Village	California Average
Population (2024)	~7,390	39.5 million
Median Household Income	$179,954	$91,551
Per Capita Income	$100,230	$42,287
Median Age	49.0 years	37.4 years
Median Home Value	$1,550,579	$729,000
Below Poverty Line	6.0%	11.5%
Race/Ethnicity (White)	79.9%	36.0%

3.2 Practice Implications

- High disposable income means residents can afford out-of-pocket integrative health services. At a median household income of $179,954—nearly double the California average—cost sensitivity is lower than in most markets.
- The median age of 49 is ideal for homeopathy. Middle-aged adults commonly present with chronic conditions (hormonal imbalance, anxiety, autoimmune issues, musculoskeletal pain) that respond well to constitutional homeopathic treatment.
- The Conejo Valley region (Westlake Village + Thousand Oaks + Agoura Hills) has a combined population of approximately 150,000, providing a realistic catchment area for the practice.
- Westlake Village has a health-conscious, educated population that is familiar with and receptive to integrative and complementary medicine—an important cultural factor for a new homeopathic practice.
- The region’s low public transit options mean clients will likely drive to appointments; ample free parking at most Westlake Village commercial properties is an asset.

4. Competitor Research

4.1 Current Practitioners in the Area

Research conducted via Yelp, WebMD, and Google Maps identifies the following integrative and homeopathic practitioners within a 10-mile radius of Westlake Village:

Practitioner / Clinic	Specialty	Location	Potential Impact
Nancy Sacks – Holistic Haven	Classical Homeopathy (30+ yrs)	Westlake Village	Direct competitor; well-established
Dr. Kristin Stiles Green, NMD	Naturopathic Medicine incl. Homeopathy	Westlake Village area	Moderate overlap; broader scope
Laurie Monteleone – Healing with Homeopathy	Homeopathy	Conejo Valley	Direct competitor; niche focus
Deena Parry Wellness & Acupuncture	Acupuncture / Naturopathic	Westlake Village	Indirect competitor; referral opportunity
Hera Beauty & Wellness	Holistic Women's Health / Med Spa	Westlake Village	Indirect; potential referral partner

4.2 Market Gaps and Opportunities

- While a few experienced homeopaths practice in the area, demand for holistic care in the Conejo Valley outpaces supply. Yelp lists 52 naturopathic/holistic providers across the greater Thousand Oaks area, indicating strong consumer interest.
- Most existing practitioners have limited digital presence and booking accessibility. A modern online booking system and active social media presence would immediately differentiate Golden Well Classical Homeopathy.
- Pediatric and family-focused homeopathy is underrepresented in the area—an identified niche opportunity.
- Evening and weekend appointment availability is uncommon among local competitors, representing an access gap for working professionals.

5. What Makes This Practice Unique

5.1 Specialized Focus Areas

- Women's health and hormonal balance (perimenopause, PCOS, fertility support) – aligned with the area's median age of 49 and large female demographic.
- Pediatric homeopathy – meeting the needs of Westlake Village's family-oriented community.
- Chronic and autoimmune conditions – addressing the gap in conventional medicine.

5.2 Client Experience

- Extended initial consultations (90+ minutes) to conduct thorough case-taking and ensure clients feel fully heard.
- A warm, luxury-adjacent office environment consistent with Westlake Village clientele expectations.
- Same-day acute consultation availability for established clients.
- Telehealth option for follow-up consultations, offering flexibility for busy professionals.

5.3 Education & Community

- Monthly free webinars and quarterly in-person workshops: Introduction to Homeopathy, Seasonal Wellness, First Aid for Families.
- A curated wellness blog and email newsletter with evidence-informed content on homeopathy, lifestyle, and preventive health.
- Active Instagram and Facebook presence showcasing client success stories (with consent), educational reels, and community health tips.

5.4 Accessibility & Transparency

- Clear, published fee schedule with no hidden charges.
- Sliding-scale rates available for qualifying clients (5% of monthly caseload).
- Streamlined online intake forms and 24/7 online booking.

Costs increase slightly in Year 2 to reflect higher advertising spend and professional development.

9.3 Year Five – Established Practice

Period	Est. Monthly Appointments	Est. Gross Revenue	Less Monthly Costs	Net Income
Year 5 Average (monthly)	50–60 appts	$13,500	$3,200*	$10,300
Year 5 Total (est.)	—	~$162,000	~$38,400	~$123,600

Year 5 costs include a part-time admin assistant, expanded marketing, and continued education.

10. Break-Even & Cost vs. Income Projection

The practice reaches monthly break-even when gross revenue equals or exceeds monthly operating costs of $2,309. At an average fee of $150 per appointment, this requires a minimum of 16 appointments per month to break even.

Break-even calculation: $2,309 ÷ $150 (avg. fee) ≈ 16 appointments/month

Year	Annual Gross Revenue	Annual Costs	Annual Net Income/(Loss)	Cumulative Profit/(Loss)
Year 1	$54,900	$27,708 + $15,200 start-up	~$11,992	($11,992) net of start-up
Year 2	$108,000	$31,200	$76,800	$64,808
Year 3	$129,600	$35,000	$94,600	$159,408
Year 4	$145,000	$36,500	$108,500	$267,908
Year 5	$162,000	$38,400	$123,600	$391,508

The practice is projected to recover all start-up costs and achieve cumulative profitability by the end of Year 2. From Year 3 onward, the practice is expected to generate consistent six-figure annual net income for the practitioner.

Note: All figures are estimates. Actual results will depend on local market conditions, client retention, pricing strategy, and marketing effectiveness. A formal financial review is recommended at the end of each year.
